

Gerontology Minor Assessment Matrix

Key Student Learning Outcomes	GERO Course(s) Assessed In
Demonstrate an understanding of the aging processes, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the interdisciplinary nature of human aging</li> <li>• demographic changes</li> <li>• diversity in later life</li> </ul>	208, 405, 411, 415, 425, 435, 440, 444, 465
Demonstrate a knowledge of gerontological theory, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the various models and theories in gerontology</li> <li>• the practical implications of theories in gerontology</li> <li>• ways of evaluating gerontological research and theory</li> </ul>	208, 405, 411, 415, 425, 435, 440, 444, 465
Experience professional life and prepare for a career in aging, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• awareness of professional opportunities in gerontology</li> <li>• understanding professional methods and ethics</li> </ul>	208, 405, 411, 415, 425, 435, 440, 444, 465