

History Department Graduate Program Mission Statement

The History department graduate program has the mission of providing high quality, accessible graduate programs that are responsive to the need for professional development and educational enrichment. The offerings include three possible tracks.

- A Master of Arts degree in History prepares professional historians who wish to pursue advanced work in a specific area or areas of history.
- Majoring in Public History with a Master of Arts degree prepares graduates for employment with historical societies, museums, archives and private, county, state and federal interpretive centers and other historical sites.
- Master of Sciences in History degree provides professional training to students specifically interested in pursuing careers in the field of education.
