

2008 Student Research Colloquium

Six undergraduate students sponsored by Philip Grossman of the department of economics presented their research findings at the 2008 SCSU Student Research Colloquium.

Kathryn Bargabus “The Rise of Mandated Health Care Benefits and Expenditures”

Robert Helland “The Interstate Highway System and the Regional Distribution of Income”

Edward Jordan “Difference in Private and Public Sector Wages”

Michael Loehlein “Characteristics of Minnesota Gamblers”

Mike Newell “Supply and Demand Effects of U.S. Deportations”

Jyoti Rai “A Short Run Analysis of Phillips Curve of United States”