

Dr. Daniel P. Macari

Associate Professor
College Counseling and Student Development
St. Cloud State University
A267 Education Building
720 Fourth Avenue South
St. Cloud, MN 56301-4498
Office: 320.308.1044
Fax: 320.308.4221
E-mail: dpmacari@stcloudstate.edu

Education

- Ph.D. Counseling and Educational Psychology-University of Nevada

Program Areas

- Doctoral courses in Higher Education Administration
- Master and Undergraduate courses in College Counseling and Student Development

Research/Interest Areas

- Disabled and At-Risk Students
- Nontraditional Students

Biography

Dr. Dan Macari is the Graduate Coordinator for the College Counseling and Student Development program at St. Cloud State University. Dr. Macari has worked in the field of student development for more than 11 years. Prior to arriving at St. Cloud State University he was employed in the community college setting as a counselor working with disabled and at-risk students. Dr. Macari has written and presented on issues facing nontraditional students in higher education.

Courses Taught

HIED 820 The College Student
HIED 821 College Student Development