

Photo of Macerata, in Le Marche region of Italy

~EDUCATION ABROAD IN ITALY~

May 16 – May 30, 2011

“International Higher Education: Discovering Universities in the European Context”

The University of Macerata, the second oldest university in Italy, established in 1290, will be your home base for two weeks while on this study abroad tour. During the trip students will also visit several universities in the ancient cities of Urbino, Perugia, Bologna, Florence, and Rome and will take three courses at the University of Macerata in “Italian Culture,” “The History of Higher Education in Italy,” and “Critical Issues in Italian Higher Education.”

Students will register for six graduate credits during Intersession, through the Higher Education Administration Program at St. Cloud State University. For more information about the tour, costs, availability of financial aid, etc. please contact Prof. Christine M. Imbra at 320-308-1689 or cmimbra@stcloudstate.edu

Photo of the University of Macerata