New Media Series

SCSU Music Department First Monday of Every Month

PRESENTS

TIM KAISER

MONDAY DECEMBER 7, 2009 • 5:00 PM

RUTH GANT RECITAL HALL, PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

“Tim Kaiser would steal the show...”- Homegrown, Duluth News Tribune.

“Tim Kaiser’s fabulously weird world of music...eclectic genius...”- Bend it Like Bach, Make Magazine

“”His work can be viewed as an experiment to see whether adventurous art with its own voice can be conceived and delivered outside of the major art centers. The answer appears to be YES”- Reviews, New Art Examiner

“..Tim Kaiser, who blew everyone away performing at the Blue Crab....”-Makers, Duluth News Tribune

“Kaiser has made more than 150 instruments...coaxes foreign sounds from far-fetched equipment made by hand...”- Made on Earth, Make Magazine

The First Monday New Media Series is held the first Monday of each month at 5pm in the Ruth Gant Recital Hall in the SCSU Performing Arts Center. The series features guest artists and scholars, sharing their work with multimedia and interdisciplinary arts. Audience members are given the chance to see behind the scenes, to learn what goes into the creation of these new works of art and to be able to interact with the artists.

The First Monday Series is organized by Drs. Kristian Twombly and Scott Miller of the Music Department. The Music Department is proud to have recently launched the New Media Emphasis within the Bachelor of Arts in Music Degree program. This emphasis allows students to engage new and emerging technologies in an interdisciplinary framework, creating musical works that utilize interactivity and that stress collaboration between artistic disciplines. Please contact us at music@stcloudstate.edu for more information on this exciting new degree program!
