

Music Education

The strength of the Music Education Program is rooted in our faculty and their passions for music. They are professional musicians with teaching experience in pre-school, elementary and secondary education (P-12).

A committed faculty who work with future music teachers inside and outside of the traditional classroom is just one characteristic of this outstanding program:

- Individual Advising. Every student and every musician is unique. Academic and career advising is provided by faculty who know their students and the job market.
- Excellent Job Placement. The Department of Music boasts a placement rate of 100% for its graduates in music education.
- Mentor Program. Students regularly experience the profession through contact with elementary, middle, and high school music teachers in their classrooms and well as in workshops and clinics.
- Preparatory Program. The successful Preparatory Program allows music students opportunities to develop their teaching skills under the guidance of a master teacher.
- Student Research Colloquium. An annual campus event encourages undergraduate and graduate students to present their special projects, papers, research, and artistic performances to the campus community.
- Collegiate Music Educators Student Chapter. This student organization of future music teachers hosts guest speakers on a variety of music education topics and provides networking opportunities with musicians around the state.
- Sigma Alpha Iota Music Fraternity. This active organization provides an outlet for women of every academic major to share their love of music
