Introduction

The internship in Community Counseling is intended to provide the counseling student practical “hands- on” experiences in settings where counseling services are offered. It allows the student an opportunity to relate academic and theoretical learning to settings outside of the university classroom. The experience also allows the student to receive evaluative feedback on his/her knowledge, attitudes and skills with specific client populations in specific settings. Since the student has already had some advanced training in counseling, the staff and the clientele at the placement site should benefit from the services that are provided by the student during the placement.

Students should investigate at least three possible internship sites according to each student’s emphasis area(s). In general, the sites should:

- 1) Provide interns with an opportunity to do counseling
- 2) Have an on-site supervisor with at least a master’s degree
- 3) Have an on-site supervisor that is certified or licensed, and
- 4) Be within a 60 mile radius of St. Cloud

This internship directory can be used as a resource which provides a list of internship sites that have been utilized in the past or have shown interest in the possibility of SCSU student interns. Remember that it is the student’s responsibility to research, visit, and secure an internship site. This list is a starting point; do not be afraid to look for other qualified sites.
