Other Notes:

Liberal education courses may be completed in any order. From among the LEP courses, students must complete 3 diversity courses which must come from different academic areas – (one of them must be an approved racial issues course).

Goal 6 can be satisfied with CMST 210, 211, 306 or 316.

The following CMST courses can be double counted in LEP and CMST programs (210, 211, 220, 306, 316, 318, and 330).

Interdepartmental majors must complete the CMST core curriculum and select 9 elective credits from the CMST curriculum in consultation with an advisor. All interdepartmental students must take at least six CMST courses (18 credits) at the 300/400 level with at least two courses (6 credits) at the 400 level. CMST 444, 491 and independent studies will not count toward the 300/400 level requirement, however, students are encouraged to consider such courses as counting toward university electives and the 45 cr. University requirement for upper-division coursework. CMST activities (291) and speech anxiety reduction (171) also count toward university electives.

Students must fulfill all LEP and CMST requirements (review specifics), in consultation with an advisor.

A total of 120 semester credit hours are required for any four-year degree.

*Students will need to take either a 4 credit LEP course, a 4 credit elective or an extra one or two 1 credit courses to make 120 credits.
